 - For the offers booked till 27th November 2024, the interest amount charged in the first EMI is based on a 30-day period.
 - With effect from booking done from 29th April 2024 till 27th November 2024 if the period between Plan Open Date and Payment Due Date (credit period) is less than 30 days, the excess interest levied will be credited back to the cardholder's account in the subsequent statement(s). - Interest computation for all bookings done from 29th April'24 onward will be from Payment Due Date to Payment Due Date for 2nd EMI. However, the first EMI will be from Plan Open Date to First Bill Payment Due Date.

Example for 1st EMI Credit scenario applicable for booking done between 29th April'24 and 27th November'24

Cardholders will be credited a portion of the computed interest amount if the credit period is lesser than the period for which interest has been charged in the first EMI i.e. the period between Plan Open Date and the Payment Due Date of first EMI is less than 30 days

Calculation for crediting back excess interest:

Interest charged in first EMI - $\{(1st\ EMI\ Interest\ Amount \div 30\ Days) \times (Period\ between\ Plan\ Open\ Date\ \&\ Payment\ Due\ Date)\}$ Example:

Interest charged in first EMI (for a 30-day period) = Rs. 900

Period between the Plan Open Date and Payment Due Date = 22 days

Then the amount that will be credited back to the cardholder's account in the subsequent statement(s) will be: $900 - \{(900 \div 30) \times (22)\} = Rs. 240$

Example for 1st EMI Debit scenario applicable for booking done between 15th July'24 and 27th November'24

Cardholders will be debited a portion of the computed interest amount if the credit period is more than the period for which interest has been charged in the first EMI i.e. the period between the Plan Open Date and the Payment Due Date of first EMI is more than 30 days

Calculation for debiting remaining interest:

$\{(1st\ EMI\ Interest\ Amount \div 30\ Days) \times (Period\ between\ Plan\ Open\ Date\ \&\ Payment\ Due\ Date)\}$
- Interest charged in first EMI Example:

Interest charged in first EMI (for a 30-day period) = Rs. 900

Period between the Plan Open Date and Payment Due Date = 42 days

Then the amount that will be debited to the cardholder's account in the subsequent statement(s) will be: $\{(900 \div 30) \times (42)\} - 900 = Rs. 360$

- For the offers booked from 28th November 2024 onwards, the interest amount chargeable in the 1st EMI will be calculated for the period between Plan Open Date and the Payment Due Date (PDD), as per the credit card statement cycle. From 2nd EMI onwards, interest will be levied for a 30-day period, from one PDD to the next PDD. Hence, the 1st EMI amount may be different from subsequent EMIs.
 - Difference between Plan Open Date and the first bill Payment Due Date as per the credit card statement cycle >30 days: 1st EMI amount will be more than other EMI.
 - Difference between Plan Open Date and the first bill Payment Due Date as per the credit card statement cycle = 30 days: 1st EMI amount will be equal to other EMI.
 - Difference between Plan Open Date and the first bill Payment Due Date as per the credit card statement cycle <30 days: 1st EMI amount will be less than other EMI.
- At any given month the portion of the monthly repayment amount applied towards interest is determined by multiplying the reducing interest rate with the principal outstanding after the deduction of the previous month's repayment amount. In other words, the reducing rate of interest is the rate which when charged brings the outstanding principal to zero at the end of the tenor, where the interest charged is calculated on a reducing principal balance. Illustrative example of amortization scheduled given in the last clause in this document.
- For the purposes of booking Flexipay, the period of 30 days from the date of the retail transaction is the defined term ("Term").
- Any retail transaction converted into Flexipay EMI post the previous statement date will not be reduced from the Total Amount Due (TAD) as provided in the previous statement. The customer is required to pay the complete TAD amount on or before the Payment Due Date (PDD). The amount converted into Flexipay and paid under TAD will be credited in retail balance & adjusted against the next generated Bill. Any balance amount (post PDD) would be treated as an unpaid balance from the previous statement and would be liable for charges as per MITC
- For Minimum Amount Due charges and Order of Payment Settlement, please refer to the MITC: <https://www.sbicard.com/en/most-important-terms-and-conditions.page>.
- The monthly EMI amount of Flexipay EMI facility will be part of Minimum Amount Due (MAD) and non-payment of MAD will attract Late Payment Fees and a standard Finance Charge as per Cardholders MITC. <https://www.sbicard.com/en/most-important-terms-and-conditions.page>
- In the event of non-payment / short payment of the Minimum Amount Due for more than three successive months, the Flexipay facility shall be closed/withdrawn and the principal outstanding along with the outstanding interest accrued till the date of such closure shall be debited to the Credit Card Account and appear in the subsequent monthly statement. SBI Card shall be entitled to demand immediate repayment of such consolidated outstanding amounts. As a part of the Credit Card Account, this balance will attract all applicable charges as per Cardholders MITC. (link for MITC)<https://www.sbicard.com/en/most-important-terms-and-conditions.page>

- It is stipulated, if the SBI Credit Cardholder is revolving at the time of request for transfer of retail purchase to Flexipay, he will continue to be charged the standard credit card charge as per MITC on his revolving balance till the time the transfer to Flexipay actually takes place within the Term defined hereinabove.
- The accrued reward points for transactions converted to Flexipay EMI would be forfeited w.e.f. 20th Nov'20. In the event of foreclosure of Flexipay EMI booking, Reward Points will not be credited back to the cardholder account.

- Effective 27th February 2023 till 27th November 2024, for all Flexipay foreclosures, interest accrued during the period between the last Statement Date & the Foreclosure Service Request Date will also be added to the Foreclosure Charges. If the first EMI is not billed at the time of foreclosure, then interest accrued between Flexipay Booking Date and Foreclosure Service Request Date shall be considered as accrued interest. This interest will be over & above the Foreclosure Fee of 3% on the principal outstanding on a pro-rata basis, plus applicable taxes. Foreclosure requests placed on statement generation date may attract extra interest. For successful closure of the Foreclosure Service Request, the complete foreclosure amount needs to be paid within the communicated timeline.
